Why Choose a Universal Pre-K program?

Children who attend a Preschool or Pre-Kindergarten program are better prepared for their first year of school than children without such access. Two-thirds of all teachers polled, said children who attend a Pre-K program are "substantially better prepared" and are "Ready to Learn" in kindergarten.

Researchers from the National Institute for Early Education Research, examined a sample of more than 5,000 4-year-olds enrolled in programs during 2004-05 in five states: Michigan, New Jersey, Oklahoma, South Carolina, and West Virginia. They found that children's average vocabulary scores grew 8% during the Pre-K year - four months of progress!
