This program is targeted towards students who are preparing to enter the workforce, or who may be interested in entering the field of environmental health and safety.

The program will consist of 40 hours of classroom instruction, including 30-Hours of instruction on the Occupational Safety and Health Standards for General Industry which covers policies, procedures and standards, as well as general industry safety and health principles and applications. At the conclusion of the training program, students will earn both the OSHA 30-Hour Certificate for General Industry, as well as a certificate from Needham Risk Management for the completion of the course. Both can be used to demonstrate an awareness of the health and safety requirements in workplaces to potential employers.
